

CASE

CASE WESTERN RESERVE UNIVERSITY

Distinguished Lecturer Seminar

Mary C. Beckerle, PhD

“Communication Between the Cytoskeleton and the Nucleus: The Roles of LIM Proteins in Muscle Development and Disease”

Monday, December 13, 2004

School of Medicine, Room E531

Reception to follow on Department of Physiology and Biophysics Bridge

Deputy Director and Senior Director for Laboratory Research,
Huntsman Cancer Institute
University of Utah
Professor, Department of Biology

Sponsored by:

ACES-ADVANCE and Department of Physiology & Biophysics

With generous support from the National Science Foundation ADVANCE award, the Academic Careers in Engineering and Science (ACES) program at Case Western Reserve University seeks to contribute to the development of a national science and engineering workforce that includes the full participation women at all levels of faculty and academic leadership.

Website: www.cwru.edu/admin/aces/index.html Email: NSF\_ACES@case.edu