Vineyards, Vistas, and the Volcano

Dear Alumni and Friends,

What could be more inspiring than a journey to Sicily highlighted by visits to renowned archaeological sites, delicious cuisine and wine, and a fabulous private villa selected as our home base?

This comprehensive program will provide an intimate, immersive approach to an authentic cultural and culinary experience. We'll converse with winemakers whose vineyards thrive on the flanks of Mount Etna and enjoy their boutique wines paired with savory antipasti.

The beautiful landscapes of Sicily are populated by the spirits of ancient Greeks and the Romans who found paradise on this island. Excellent guides will lead us on many memorable discoveries of Sicily's celebrated past.

Space is limited. With significant savings of more than $1,000 per couple, we anticipate this tour will fill quickly. Be certain to reserve your spot today and share this brochure with family and friends who may be interested in traveling with you.

Please reserve online at cwrु.orbridge.com, by calling (866) 639-0079 or by returning the enclosed reservation form.

Sincerely,

Faculty host - Maggie Popkin
Robson Junior Professor,
Associate Professor of Art History

Maggie Popkin is the Robson Junior Professor in the Humanities and associate professor of art history at Case Western Reserve University. An expert in Greco-Roman art and architecture, Maggie has extensive experience living and working in Italy, where she, as excavated at the archaeological site of Selinunte in Sicily, held a Fulbright Scholarship in Rome, and lived at the American Academy in Rome as the recipient of the 2021 Andrew Heiskell Rome Prize in Ancient Studies. Maggie is currently a senior member of the American excavations at the Sanctuary of the Great Gods in Samothrace, Greece--home of the famous Winged Victory of Samothrace today in the Louvre. She has published books on Roman triumphal monuments and ancient travel souvenirs and sports memorabilia. Maggie loves traveling in the former lands of the Roman Empire and exploring the ways that buildings, objects, and cultural traditions shape how we think about the world and relate to other people. Sicily is one of her favorite places in Italy, and she looks forward to experiencing it with you. Maggie grew up in the San Francisco Bay Area and Western Massachusetts and did her undergraduate work at Williams College. After completing her PhD at New York University's Institute of Fine Arts, she took her first job at CWRU and has loved the university and Cleveland so much that she has been here ever since. She, her husband Elliot Morrison, and their two children live in Shaker Heights, a perfect homebase for some of their favorite pastimes: hiking in Cleveland's MetroParks, exploring the Cleveland Museum of Art, and attending Cavs and Guardians games.

We reserve the right to cancel or substitute faculty. We cannot guarantee the size of the Case Western Reserve University group.
