

Lecturer, Program Director, and Coordinator of Clinical Education

The Department of Communication Sciences at Case Western Reserve University invites applications for the position of Full-time Lecturer with administrative duties as Program Director and Coordinator of Clinical Education of the ASHA-certified Master's Degree Program in Speech-Language Pathology (SLP). In addition to performing the administrative duties of Program Director and Coordinator of Clinical Education, the successful candidate will teach 4-5 courses per academic year in the undergraduate communications sciences curriculum and the graduate curriculum in SLP. Requirements for the position include a M.S. in Speech-Language Pathology, a valid certificate of clinical competence in SLP, at least five-years experience as a Program Director and/or Clinical Education Coordinator of an ASHA-certified clinical training program, and prior teaching experience.

To apply, send: 1) a letter of interest summarizing relevant experience; 2) a curriculum vitae/resume; 3) a short statement of teaching philosophy; and 4) arrange for three letters of recommendation to Bridget Chapman, Department of Communication Sciences, Cleveland Hearing & Speech Center, 11206 Euclid Avenue Room 410, Cleveland, OH 44106-7154, or electronically to Acting Chair Stephen E. Haynesworth, Ph.D. at stephen.haynesworth@case.edu.

Applications received by October 15, 2008 will receive full consideration. In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and World Class Diversity. CWRU is a recipient of a National Science Foundation ADVANCE Institutional Transformation Grant to increase the participation of women in Science and Engineering