

The Department of Philosophy in the College of Arts & Sciences at Case Western Reserve University invites applications for the Elmer G. Beamer-Hubert H. Schneider Chair in Ethics, rank open, tenured or tenure-track. AOS: Ethics; AOC: Open. The successful candidate will be a distinguished or rapidly emerging scholar with a strong appreciation for normative ethics, meta-ethics, and the history of ethics, capable of generating excellent teaching and leadership across the university's divisions and centers including Bioethics, the Inamori Center for Ethics and Excellence, and Business as an Agent of World Benefit, and other cross-disciplinary outreach. The chair's endowment includes resources for curricular development and civic involvement. Semester system, four courses per year including Introduction to Philosophy. Applicants must hold a Ph.D. or equivalent by date of interview. Appointment at the level of Associate Professor or Professor will require a national reputation for expertise in research, and a distinguished record of publication, as well as other qualifications necessary for tenure and promotion at our institution as stated in the Faculty Handbook and in the tenure and promotion standards of the Department of Philosophy. Interviews at Eastern APA as well as electronically.

Electronic applications via e-mail are preferred, consisting of a letter of application, a writing sample, a curriculum vitae, a statement of research interests and plans, and a statement of teaching experience. Applicants should arrange to have three current letters of reference sent independently. All should be sent to Professor Colin McLarty, Chair of the Department of Philosophy, (colin.mclarty@case.edu). Hard copies may be mailed to: Professor Colin McLarty, Chair of the Department of Philosophy, Case Western Reserve University, 10900 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, OH 44106-7119. Complete applications received by December 1 2008 will receive full consideration.

The university is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.
