Notice of Faculty Vacancy

Professor and Chair of the Department of Music

Case Western Reserve University invites applications for the position of Chair of its Department of Music, a department characterized by a distinguished, active, and innovative faculty, and by outstanding undergraduate and graduate students. Candidates for the position must qualify for the rank of Professor in a specialization congruent with Department programs. Breadth of interest is an asset. The CWRU Department of Music offers BA, BS, MA, DMA, and PhD degrees in a full range of specialties in Musicology and Music Education, with special programs in Historical Performance Practice, Popular Music, and research in Music Education. Departmental Guidelines call for Professors to show outstanding success in scholarship, teaching, mentoring, and service, with an international reputation in the respective discipline.

The chair works to develop faculty, staff, and programs, oversee curricula, facilities, and budgets, facilitate Music Department events, ensure compliance with accreditation standards such as NASM, and coordinate with the Cleveland Institute of Music in our Joint Music Program. In addition to providing collaborative and visionary leadership for the department, duties as Professor will include teaching, mentoring, and advising graduate and undergraduate music students.

The Joint Music Program is an integrated music program at both the undergraduate and graduate levels. Students at CWRU and CIM have the benefit of pursuing studies at both schools, thus enjoying the benefits of both a conservatory and a major research university. Music history and music education courses are all taught at CWRU. The two institutions share a campus setting in University Circle, together with The Cleveland Orchestra, the Cleveland Museum of Art, and several other cultural organizations. Collaborations also exist with Cleveland's Rock & Roll Hall of Fame and Museum and its Library & Archives.

Review of applications will begin November 30, 2012 and continue until the position is filled. Please send a letter of application and curriculum vitae, along with contact information for four references, to musicchairsearch@case.edu or to:
