

Employer information

Case Western Reserve University, a leader among independent research universities, offers world-class academic programs in Cleveland's culturally vibrant University Circle. In employment, as in education, Case Western Reserve University is committed to Equal Opportunity and Diversity. Women, veterans, members of underrepresented minority groups, and individuals with disabilities are encouraged to apply. Case Western Reserve University provides reasonable accommodations to applicants with disabilities.

Applicants requiring a reasonable accommodation for any part of the application and hiring process should contact the Office of Inclusion, Diversity and Equal Opportunity at 216-368-8877 to request a reasonable accommodation. Determinations as to granting reasonable accommodations for any applicant will be made on a case-by-case basis.

Job Description

The Department of Art History and Art at Case Western Reserve University seeks a specialist in modern/contemporary European art (19th-21st centuries), to join our growing faculty in the fall of 2013 at the level of assistant or associate professor, full-time tenure track. Ph.D. required at time of appointment with established scholarly expertise in modern and contemporary European art (excluding a research specialty in architecture). Candidates should exemplify excellence in research and teaching. Two courses each semester, including graduate seminars, upper level courses in area of specialization, introductory and area survey classes for undergraduates, and participation in CWRU's seminar approach to undergraduate education. Duties include supervision of M.A. students and doctoral research, full participation in departmental activities, and relevant university service. A strong commitment to object-based teaching/mentoring and engagement with museum and/or collecting practices and history are essential. The graduate programs in art history and in art history and museum studies are offered cooperatively with the Cleveland Museum of Art; the doctoral program in art history is being relaunched in 2013 with a generous grant from the Andrew W. Mellon Foundation to emphasize object-centered learning. The renowned collections and library of the museum are available for teaching and research. Visit our website at: <http://www.cwru.edu/artsci/arth/arth.html>. Email your letter of application, CV, and names, phone numbers, and e-mail addresses of three references in a PDF document to Catherine B. Scallen, Modern/Contemporary European Art Search Committee Chair, Department of Art History and Art, Case Western Reserve University at catherine.scallen@case.edu or mail to Catherine Scallen, Modern/Contemporary European Art Search Committee Chair, Department of Art History and Art, Case Western Reserve University, 10900 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, OH 44106-7110. Applications received by 1 December 2012 will receive full consideration.

Required qualifications:

All applicants must have PhD at time of appointment. Teaching experience and evidence of an active research agenda in modern/contemporary European art are required. Applicants who wish to be considered for an appointment at the associate professor level should also have a substantial publication record, including a single-authored monograph or exhibition catalogue, superior teaching evaluations, and a record of university service.