Midwest Jewish Studies Association: MJSA is a nonprofit organization designed to encourage and develop the manifold varieties of Jewish study. Besides facilitating scholarly and educational services, the MJSA represents a synergistic effort to generate talent, ideas, and resources. Dues are $60 per year ($45 for students and retired members) and include a subscription to Shofar. To join, please write to Dean Bell, Spertus Institute of Jewish Studies, 618 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60605, and enclose a check made out to the Midwest Jewish Studies Association.

Western Jewish Studies Association: The Western Jewish Studies Association is a non-profit organization founded in 1995 to organize a Jewish Studies conference every Spring at alternating sites in the Western United States and Canada. The conference serves as a forum for Jewish Studies scholars in this region to present their research, discuss pedagogical issues, network with colleagues in their disciplines, and share information about the funding and organization of Jewish Studies Programs. Dues for the WJSA are $40 a year and include a subscription to Shofar and the organization's newsletter. To join, please write: Lawrence Baron, Lipinsky Institute for Judaic Studies, San Diego State University, San Diego, CA 92182 and include your check made out to the Western Jewish Studies Association.

Editorial Policy: The aim of Shofar is to promote the exchange of ideas and information among teachers and scholars in the area of Jewish Studies. Shofar favors material written for the general reader rather than a subgroup of specialists. Of particular interest is the area of teaching Jewish Studies at colleges and universities.

Information for Contributors: Shofar publishes scholarly papers (5,000–10,000 words), book reviews, and review essays. All papers are reviewed by invited readers; other materials are evaluated by the editorial board. Please submit papers via e-mail to the Managing Editor. If it is not possible to use e-mail, please send the paper on disc. Letters to the editor are normally limited to 500 words; the editors reserve the right to edit letters.
