

"Journeys to the Altar:" Intimate Relationships, Childbearing, and Marriage in Low Income Urban and Rural Families

PROFESSOR LINDA BURTON

NSF ADVANCE
Distinguished Lecturer

Sponsored by Academic Careers in Engineering and Science (ACES) in conjunction with the Department of Sociology

Thursday, May 1, 2008

3:00-4:30 pm

Mandel Center, Room 115

Reception to follow lecture.

Professor Linda Burton is the James B. Duke Professor of Sociology of Duke University. An Elected Fellow of the Gerontological Society of America, Professor Burton takes multi-methodological approaches to conduct studies of the life course of Americans who have low incomes living in urban and rural communities.

Questions:
(216) 368-2700