Sexual Assault Response Team

The Cuyahoga County Sexual Assault Response Team is a multi-disciplinary collaborative dedicated to promoting prevention of, and responses to, sexual assault in the community. The collaborative supports the rights and choices of those who have been sexually assaulted throughout their involvement with health, social and justice systems, while working to provide quality medical care and advocacy services and effectively prosecute and hold offenders accountable for their actions.

Presenters include:

Chris Asplen is a former Assistant U.S. Attorney and district prosecutor specializing in the prosecution of sex crimes and child abuse. Chris is the former Executive Director of the National Commission on the Future of DNS Evidence for the U.S. Department of Justice and Director of the DNA Unit for the National District Attorneys Association. Currently, he consults with local, state and foreign governments and law enforcement agencies on the use of forensic DNA technology. Chris is also a member of the Crime Victim Bar Association.

Kirsti Mouncey, LISW-S, LCDCH is the Vice President of Client & Clinical Services at the Cleveland Rape Crisis Center. Kirsti has been part of the anti-violence movement for over 15 years and her clinical experience lies in the areas of trauma and addiction.

Rick Bell is an assistant county prosecutor in the office of Bill Mason since 1990 and has worked in every unit of the criminal division including supervising the Major Trial Unit which litigates all the murder and rape cases in Cuyahoga County. Rick was recently promoted to Community Justice and Criminal Investigations Division Chief where he directs the units in the office that are investigative in nature.
