

High Performance Computing Cluster

Computationally intensive research is supported through the operation of continuously growing high performance computing cluster based on Dell PowerEdge servers with Intel processors and Red Hat Enterprise Linux. Details of the cluster configuration can be found at the link below.

Faculty who are interested in using the resource should complete the 'HPC Application' form on the Research Computing website.

For additional information, please contact: its-cluster-admin@case.edu.

For more information go to <https://sites.google.com/a/case.edu/hpc-upgraded-cluster/>