

CASE WESTERN RESERVE
UNIVERSITY

MANDEL CENTER FOR NONPROFIT ORGANIZATIONS

Service Learning 101

Are you a teacher who is interested in getting your students engaged in the community, but don't know where to start?

Are your students already engaged, but you would like to make their experiences more meaningful?

Are you a volunteer coordinator who is looking for ways to effectively engage youth as volunteers in your organization?

Service learning may be just what you are looking for!

What Is Service Learning 101?

This interactive training provides participants with an understanding of service learning, what makes it effective, and how to develop and implement a service learning program. The training is presented by Dr. L. Richard Bradley based on a manual he wrote for Learn & Serve Ohio. Each participant will receive a copy of the manual to help him or her implement the skills learned in the training and to share with colleagues.

What Does the Training Cost?

The cost for the training is $30. This cost includes meals and a copy of the Service Learning Training Manual.

When and Where is the Training?

April 3, 2009, 8:30 am to 5:00 pm - Case Western Reserve University

Mandel Center for Nonprofit Organizations, Room 115, 11402 Bellflower Road, Cleveland, OH 44106

How Do You Register?

To register, complete the application form (available on the YPS website or call us) and mail it with registration fee to the address listed below.

Youth Philanthropy and Service

Mandel Center for Nonprofit Organizations

MAILING ADDRESS: 10900 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, OH 44106-7167

PHONE: 216-368-0455 FAX: 216-368-8592

E-MAIL: ypsmcno@case.edu

www.case.edu/mandelcenter/yps